Devon Day was the best friend I ever had. We met in kindergarten and were inseparable throughout our childhood. We shared everything, from our laughter to our tears. We were always there for each other, no matter what.

But then, tragedy struck. Devon was diagnosed with a rare form of cancer. He fought bravely, but the cancer was too strong. He passed away just a few months after his diagnosis.

I was devastated. I couldn't believe that my best friend was gone. I felt lost and alone. I didn't know how I could go on without him.

But then, I remembered something that Devon had told me. He had said that even though he was gone, he would always be with me in spirit. He said that I should never forget about him, and that I should always cherish the memories we had together.

So that's what I've done. I've never forgotten about Devon, and I always cherish the memories we had together. He was the best friend a person could ask for, and I'm so grateful for the time we had together.

Goodbye my friend Devon Day. I'll never forget you.
