- Historical discrimination in housing, education, and employment
- Ongoing racial biases in criminal justice and policing
- Insufficient investments in early childhood education and healthcare
- Erosion of labor unions and declining wages

These factors, compounded over generations, have eroded the foundation of the American Dream, rendering it unattainable for far too many.

Restoring the Promise

- Addressing historical disparities through reparations and wealth-building initiatives
- Enhancing educational opportunities for all, regardless of race or background
- Expanding access to affordable housing and healthcare
- Strengthening labor unions and promoting fair wages
- Implementing criminal justice reforms to address racial bias

These bold yet essential measures aim to create a more just and equitable society where the American Dream is not deferred but realized for all.
