- Disease: Africa is disproportionately affected by disease. The continent is home to over 90% of the world's malaria cases and over 70% of the world's HIV/AIDS cases.
- Conflict: Africa is plagued by conflict. Over the past 50 years, there have been over 50 major wars in Africa. Conflict has led to the displacement of millions of people and has devastated the economies of many African countries.
- Climate change: Africa is particularly vulnerable to the effects of climate change. The continent is already experiencing rising sea levels, desertification, and more frequent and severe droughts and floods.

Opportunities for Africa

Despite the challenges it faces, Africa also has a number of opportunities for growth and development. These opportunities include:

- Economic growth: Africa has a number of rapidly growing economies. The continent's GDP is expected to grow by over 5% per year in the coming years.
- Political stability: Africa is becoming more politically stable. The number of democratic governments in Africa has increased over the past decade.
- Social progress: Africa is making progress on a number of social indicators, such as education and healthcare. The continent's literacy rate has increased by over 20% in the past decade.
